

“We were pleased to discover that our annuities enabled us to pledge more than we imagined. We continue to earn income on the annuities, part of which is tax-deductible. We benefit while investing in something very close to our hearts -- Shenandoah and its students.”

Doris (Huffer) Hutton '44

Give the Gift of a Lifetime

Life Income Gifts

Conservatory graduate Doris Huffer Hutton '44 taught middle-school music and directed the music program at her church in Virginia's Tidewater area for several years. A past president of the Alumni Association, Doris remained actively involved in Shenandoah University, even after she and her husband Henry retired to Florida. In fact, Henry, a former postmaster, became so engaged with university activities over the years, he was named an honorary Shenandoah alumnus in 1998!

The couple has supported many conservatory scholarships and projects. They embraced the Spirit of Shenandoah campaign by giving to the campus's new Dayton Bridge and Brandt Student Center. When they decided to make a planned gift for Ruebush Hall, they were pleased to discover their annuities enabled them to pledge more than they expected. Doris said, “We love Shenandoah, and it gives us joy to know that we can give a significant gift that will help give students the same wonderful experience I had at Shenandoah.”

Life Income Gifts Benefit You and SU

There are many ways to give a planned gift that will meet your unique circumstances, perhaps provide tax benefits and continue to reap income during your lifetime. They include:

- ☞ Charitable Remainder Trust
- ☞ Annuity Trust
- ☞ Unitrust
- ☞ Charitable Lead Trust
- ☞ Charitable Gift Annuity.

Please consider joining Doris and Henry Hutton in making the gift of a lifetime, leaving a legacy that will give our students the educational experience of a lifetime.

Our Development staff welcomes the opportunity to help you and your financial advisor in making a planned gift. Contact Brad Snowden at (540) 665-5545 or bsnowden@su.edu.
